Text I

The government published a report yesterday saying that we need to eat more healthily—more fruit and vegetables, less fat and sugar. So, that means fewer burgers, chips and fried food as well as cutting down on sweet things. We went into central London yesterday at lunchtime and asked people what they thought about it. It's got nothing to do with government what I eat, 'says Paul Keel, a building worker, and Dorothy Matthews, a teacher, as they ate beefburger and chips washed down with strawberry milk shake. Tim Kennor, however welcomes the government's advice. Then, we asked the Simpson's restaurant's manager about it. I don't think people believe all these reports anymore. What they say is good for you in June, they say is bad for you in July. People stopped taking notice. We serve that we've always served. Almost all of it is fattening.
