Questions 58 – 60 refer to the following passage

Bond consists of four talented girls: Haylie Ecker, Eos (pronounced Ay-os), Tania Davis, and Gay-Yee Westerhoff. Since their childhood these four girls have been acquainted with music. In Perth, Haylie had her first violin when she was five and showed her virtuosity by playing her nimble fingers on it. In Sydney, Tani Davis practiced her first notes on piano and violin. In Cardiff, Wales, Eos used her first bow as her toy, while in Hull, United Kingdom, Gay-Yee learned piano.

Time passed by, and as the four girls grew up, they honed their skill in music and gained degrees in it. Haylie holds a first class degree from the Guildhall School of Music and Drama and has already played around the world extensively as a soloist. Eos received her degree from the Royal College of Music and has played in front of the Queen and former Prime Ministers of Australia and Ireland. Tania holds a first class honours degree in music from the Sydney Conservatorium and has just obtained the postgraduate diploma in performance from the college that Haylie went to. Meanwhile, Gay-Yee, who switched her musical instrument from piano to cello, attended Trinity College of Music in London.
