Your body needs energy, protein, minerals, vitamins, and fibre. In order to get all of these, it is important to have a varied and balanced diet, and to eat the right amount of food. Your body "burns" food to energy : the amount of energy provided by food is measured in units called calories.

How many calories do you need? This depends on your weight and on what you do. When you are asleep, your body uses nearly one calorie an hour for every kilogram of weight. So a person who weights seventy kilos uses about 560 calories while sleeping for eight hours. More calories are needed for different activities - from 100 calories an hour for reading or watching TV, to 350 calories an hour for playing football.

To calculate the number of calories needed per day for an everage person, first find out the person's ideal weight. Then multiply the weight by 40 for a woman or 46 for a man. A 60 - kilo woman may need about 2400 calories a day - more if she does heavy physical work and less if she is very inactive.

10. Which statement is NOT TRUE according to the text?
- To read something for an hour, a person needs 100 calories.
  - A person needs 350 calories per hour to play football.
  - Inactive persons do not need calories at all.
  - Food is burnt by the body to get energy.
11. How many calories do we need? It depends on ....
- how old we are
  - how heavy we are
  - our weight and what we do
  - our age and our weight
12. The text mainly tells us about ....
- energy
  - calories
  - protein
  - minerals
13. A sportman will need ... a businessman.
- as many calories as

Selling Newspaper for Pocket Money

Yanto lives not very far from my house. He goes to an SMP in the afternoon and in the morning he sells newspaper around our neighbourhood. His father was a government employee. He retired two years ago. Now he runs a small shop beside their house. We can buy groceries in Pak Mario's shop. The prices are reasonable so people like to go shopping there.

Yanto can collect six to seven hundred rupiahs from selling newspaper everyday. He spends it for his pocket money. Yanto saves some of his money in the bank.

Two months ago, during the school holiday, Yanto withdrew some money from the bank and with his family he went to visit his grandmother. Mrs. Mario's mother was happy to see her daughter, son-in-law, and her grandchildren. They stayed for a week in Kampung Tanjung. Yanto, his sister, and his little brother enjoyed the holiday very much. They went to the rice fields, swam in the river, and learnt some Javanese songs from the village children. Yanto promised himself to come again the following year.

You won't believe your eyes, you'd think you were in a sultan's palace in an age gone by, but you're in the Puri Agung Convention Centre. The sheer size and the grand scale of which is unlike anything, anywhere.

Featuring traditional Javanese architecture and symbols, with the colors and lighting in keeping with ultra-modern taste. The Puri Agung can accommodate up to 4,000 guests for cocktails, 3,000 in theatre and 2,000 classroom style or 1,600 for sitdown dinner. It has a complete array of electronic and audio visual equipment that a convention could possibly need.

And where is this luxurious news taste of the art convention centre located? In Singapore, Hong Kong, or San Francisco? Not in the least. It's the new Sahid Jaya Hotel & Tower Convention Centre on Jalan Jenderal Sudirman in the heart of Jakarta.

The Manager of KEN TOUR
Jl. Ahmad Yani 12
Surabaya.

Dear sir,

We are sorry to complain about the service that your travel agency provided on our school holiday Bali Tour Feb, 22 - 24.

First, on our arrival we had to stay outside despite of our tiredness after 12 hours. The people in charge said that all the rooms were still occupied by another tour group. We were welcomed to check in after 5 hours of waiting. That means our tour was two hours delayed. Consequently we missed one of the places to visit.

At dinner time, many of us found no food left so we bought dinner outside. We look forward to receiving your response.

Thank you,
Yours faithfully
Andi Lala
