MISSING

HAVE YOU SEEN THIS MAN?

He is in his mid-twenties, of medium height and quite stout. His face is oval-shaped and unshaven. He has crew cut hair that looks like the sharp spikes of a porcupine.

When he left the house, he was barefooted and was wearing an orange T-shirt with a red collar and a pair of black shorts.

Tan Seng Huat was reported missing by his family when he did not return home after he had slipped out of the house at about eight in the morning.

They are afraid that he might have forgotten where he lives as this has happened twice before. He seldom smiles but often talks to himself. He is harmless but can get angry if he is laughed at.

A cash reward awaits the person or persons with information about his whereabouts that would help the police pick him up.

Please contact 01 – 5417532 and ask for Inspector Lee.

Black Beauty

Farmer Gray was the kindest master in the world. He was proud of me, and called me Black Beauty. I had a white spot on my forehead and one white foot. He trained me to pull a carriage. Then I learn to wear a saddle and carry a rider on my back.

One day, Farmer Gray said. "A good horse like you do not live on a farm. So you will be going to live with Squire Gordon and his family. "I was very sad to leave my mother and my home."

However, when I saw my masters I knew I would be happy with them. They lived in a big mansion and welcomed me warmly. Mrs. Gordon was pale and ill, but she smiled when she saw me.

The groom who looked after the stables was John Manly. He loved horses. He introduced me to Merrylegs, the children's pony, Ginger, and old mare. She was not a bad horse, but had been ill-treated in the past.

Slovakia upsets France in Fed Cup

Reuters

Bratislava

Daniela Hantuchova outplayed Amelie to give Slovakia a surprise win over France and clinch a Fed Cup semifinal spot.

Hantuchova and Martina Sucha both won their reverse singles to put the tie beyond the 1997 champions.

After a jittery start against the powerful French number one, Hantuchova hit back to claim an impressive 2-6 6-4 6-3 victory before Sucha edged out Nathalie Dechy 7-6 6-1.

Mauresmo broke serve twice to take the first set in 29 minutes but Hantuchova, who has recently captured the attention of the media for both her solid play and good looks, began to take risks and leveled the match.

The French 23-year-old came out strong in the third set to break Hantuchova's serve but she could not sustain the pressure and Hantuchova broke twice to seal victory.

Text for questions 26 to 30.

Mr/Mrs. Smith
10/4 Epping Road
North Ryde 2113
N.S.W. Australia

Dear Mom and Dad,

I am writing to share my enjoyable experience with you. I hope this letter will find you all well.

Yesterday Budi's classmates and I went to visit five tourist objects in Yogyakarta and its surrounding e.g. the Sultan Palace, Tamansari Water Castle, Yogya Kembali Monument, Prambanan Temple, and Borobudur Temple. We hired a mini bus. Budi, my closest friend in Yogya, acted as a tour guide. We departed very early in the morning and were back home at 6.15 p.m. So we spent the whole day.

All of the five objects are interesting but Borobudur and Prambanan Temples are more interesting than the others. Borobudur is a Buddhist temple, while Prambanan is a Hindu one. A friend of mine said that these two temples were really wonderful. After I saw them by myself, they are even more wonderful than what I have imagined. Of these two objects, Borobudur is the most wonderful object I have ever seen. It is much bigger than Prambanan; it is one of the biggest temples in the world. No wonder it is famous throughout the world. Everyone there looked very amazed by this huge building. I am sure you will admire it, too. Make sure you take your camera with you when you visit it next year.

Well, I will write to you again next week to tell you more about the temples mentioned above.

Said that the two temples were really.

Love,

Jane

Read “State of the Earth-The Facts” and answer questions 55 to 57!

STATE OF THE EARTH-THE FACTS

1995 was the warmest year on record, and the ten hottest years in recorded human history have all been in the 1980 and 1990s. The earth has this century undergone the fastest warming since the end of the last Ice Age around 10.000 years ago.

The major impact on the atmosphere is the release of carbon dioxide throughout burning fossil fuels such as oil and coal, which creates a greenhouse effect. A warmer world would bring higher sea level as well as more frequent floods, droughts and hurricanes.

Carbon Emissions

Industrial nations are still responsible for almost half the carbon emissions, despite making up only 15% of the world’s population. But the developing world is fast closing this gap, while the emissions of former Eastern Bloc countries have recently fallen

OZON ACTIONS

The Good News

Production of chlorofluorocarbons (CFCs) which deplete the ozone layer continues to drop following international agreements to phase them out. They are not back below the level produced in 1965.

BUT

* production of CFCs in developing countries is increasing; it surged by 87 per cent between 1986 and 1993.

* A black market in CFCs is developing at least 10.000 tons of CFCs were believed to be smuggled into both the US and the European Union (from Russia, India and China) during 1995

* Ozone-depleting substances already in the atmosphere will continue to be active for decades.
